

From: earlsnidely@yahoo.com@inetgw
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/22/02 1:52pm
Subject: Microsoft Settlement

The proposed part of the Microsoft settlement that would allow them to donate computers to schools as payment would only further extend their monopoly power. If their is to be a donation to schools make it in cash so the schools can buy whatever computers they want with whatever operating system they want. Microsoft is indeed a great company with great products. But they often use that power to abuse and take advantage of other companies & the marketplace.